INDIAN MYSTERY STARTLES SUTTER

La Crosse Hotel Clerk Receives Strange Seed from a Friend in India

IS GIVEN MAGIC POWERS

Plant Said to Bring Good Fortune to Owner; "Bill" Is "Buffaloed"

It is a far cry from the "black magic" of India to the every day affairs of La Crosse, but William Sutter, the genial clerk of the La Crosse hotel, is more or less perturbed over a letter he received this morning from a friend who has been working as an engineer in that far off land of mystery for the last three or four years. The letter contained a strange little black dried up seed to which is connected a story as romantic as those of the Arabian Nights.

All kinds of magic powers are ascribed to the plant which will grow from the seed if it is planted under certain circumstances.

The seed was brought from India by James Palmer of Alaska, Canada, who is an old schoolmate and friend of Mr. Sutter. Mr. Palmer has been working as a civil engineer in railroad construction work in the province of Punjab in northern India for the last three or four years. He explains in his letter to Mr. Sutter that in one of his trips through a jungle he found an old man lying in a rude hut which he had built out of grass and reeds. The old man's leg had been broken in some way and he was nearly dead from exposure and starvation.

Priest of Shikism The surveying party carried him into the nearest town and left him in the care of a native hospital. In the course of time he turned up at the camp of the engineers. He had entirely recovered and turned out to be a priest of Shikism, a religion which prevails in northern India.

The priest was very grateful to the Americans for saving his life and just before they left for their vacation in "God's Country," he presented Mr. Palmer with three seeds. He said the seeds were of a plant that had been raised in his family for countless generations and was possessed of the power to bring good luck and fortune to all who came in contact with it. He made Mr. Palmer promise to plant them and told him that if he had any friend that he wished good fortune to attend to give him one to plant.

He said that the plant would thrive best if planted at a certain time of the year—when certain stars were at the zenith. This time is now at hand according to Mr. Palmer's reckoning.

Mr. Palmer's letter speaks of the seed in more or less of a joking way but there is an undertone of seriousness to his comments. He says "that he has lived in India enough years to have lost some of his skepticism in regard to the so-called magic of that mysterious country." He recommends that his friend "Bill" plant the seed that he has sent him as a "harmless experiment anyway."

Plant Is Unknown

He says that no one in his part of the country has been able to classify the seed and he has no idea what kind of a plant that it will grow into. He also expresses some doubt about his growing at all, saying that he has had it over a year, having forgotten it in some of the pockets of an old suit of clothes he wore in India. He discovered them accidentally when unpacking a trunk.

Mr. Sutter has been unable to find anyone in La Crosse who can tell what kind of a seed it is and doesn't know whether it will grow into a tree, vine or shrub.

Mr. Sutter is very much troubled over the matter and was at first inclined to take the whole affair as a joke but says that his friend Palmer is not the kind of a man in his judgment to "spring" anything like that. He is undecided whether to plant the seed or not. At the present he is undergoing considerable chaffing about the "mysterious seed."

"If I plant it and all of a sudden turn out to be a millionaire, you fellows can laugh all you please," is his answer. "I can't see any harm in trying out the old gink's magic," said Mr. Sutter today, "and the chances are that I will plant it today or tomorrow."

Mr. Palmer's letter explaining his part in the affair is given in full as follows:

Letter From Friend
Alaska, Alaska, Canada,
November 13, 1911.
Dear Bill:
No doubt you wondered at the strange little package which fell out when you opened this letter. That little package of dried silk contains the seed of some plant that grows in India. I found it in one of my old khaki suits which I run across when I unpacked my trunk the other day, and it reminded me of one of the strangest experiences that I ever had. You remember my telling you or some of the troubles that befell our party of engineers in Northern India in the province of Punjab? Well I

BRIDGE TROUBLE KILLED BY BOARD

Decision Not to Accept Road as State Highway May End Question; Law Suit Expected

SANITORIUM UP TO PEOPLE

Tuberculosis Sanatorium Will Be Left to Vote of People at the Spring Election

The McGilvray bridge question, as far as La Crosse county is concerned in its maintenance, through an action of the county board, was settled this morning when the minority report of the road and bridge committee to adopt the road leading to it as a state highway, was killed by a vote of ten to twenty-six.

Following the defeat of the report, Supervisor Oscar Hulberg said: "The McGilvray bridge question is practically settled unless the town of Caledonia brings an action to procure a writ of mandamus to compel La Crosse county to keep up the road and a part of the bridge, and whether or not this could be done is a question that could only be decided by such an action."

The killing of the report on accepting the road as a state highway is practically an answer to the committee of the Trempealeau county board who have been in attendance at the county board meeting awaiting the decision of the supervisors on the maintenance of the McGilvray bridge and road.

The majority report of the road and bridge committee, recommending that the road be not adopted as a state highway was not put to a vote at the time of adjournment.

Referendum Vote

The people of La Crosse county will decide on the advisability of appropriating $10,000 for the purpose of erecting a tuberculosis sanatorium, at the spring election. Late Saturday afternoon a resolution, putting the sanatorium proposition up to a referendum vote, was carried. If the people decide on the appropriation, $2,000 will be spent for a site and $8,000 for a sanatorium according to the resolution as introduced.

Supervisor Cox rose to a point of order on the printing committee's report and withdrew his amendment on including the Onalaska Record as one of the papers in which to print the county proceedings. The report was again referred to the committee who will submit the same report.

FINANCIAL WORRY CAUSES SUICIDE

Henry Reichmann Hangs Self in Basement of Home; Body Is Discovered by His Wife

Brooding over financial matters is believed to have prompted the suicide of Henry L. Reichmann, 64, 1219 Jackson street, whose body was found at 5:30 this morning, hanging from a sewer pipe in the basement of his home. A clothesline had been used by the suicide and the body was discovered by his wife.

Reichmann was morose following the adjustment of financial matters in Wausau a few days ago. His family assured him that everything was alright and he appeared to be cheered.

He attended the evening services at the West Avenue Methodist church yesterday and lost his way home. William Techmer, an old friend, escorted him to his doorstep.

During the night he got up several times but returned to bed upon being assured by his wife that it was still long before dawn. This morning he was missed and a search revealed the body in the basement.

Deceased moved here from Wausau, Wis., in April. He was a storekeeper there for many years.

He is survived by a widow, two children, Mrs. Lillian Oldenburg and Louis Reichmann, and two brothers, Ernest and Herman of Wausau.

The body is to be sent to Wausau, Wis., the former residence, where burial will take place.

MRS. SHERIDAN BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. John P. Sheridan of St. Louis, Mo., who died on Friday, were held at the residence of A. A. Sheridan, 509 North Eighth street, at 8:30 this morning and from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. Rev. Condon officiated at the services which were attended by many friends and relatives. Mrs. Sheridan's body arrived in La Crosse Saturday evening.

GOMPERTS CONFIDENT OF HIS RE-ELECTION

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 20.—When the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor gets down to business today for the second week of its session, it was generally predicted that President Gompers and his fellow officers would be re-elected with big majorities. The socialist resolution demanding the resignation of American Federation of Labor officials from the National Civic association will be adversely reported tomorrow, and there will be a fight on the floor. The Gompers men are confident of sustaining the adverse report. It seems certain that either Richmond, Va., or Rochester, N. Y., will get the next convention. The meeting will not go west until the Panama exposition is held in San Francisco in 1915.

COAL TESTER FOR CITY ARRIVES

A coal tester has been purchased by the board of public works for the purpose of testing coal contracted for by the city to determine the number of heat units and whether it is exactly the kind which was to have been furnished.

At a recent meeting of the council the board was authorized to buy a testing machine of this kind, as it was thought that it would be of great value to the city.

PRESIDENT IS SHOT

EXECUTIVE OF SANTA DOMINGO ASSASSINATED AS RESULT OF POLITICAL PLOT; DETAILS LACKING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—President Caceres, of Santo Domingo, was assassinated late yesterday, according to a dispatch received at the state department today from the American charge d'Affaires at Santo Domingo City. Caceres has been shot but no further details have yet reached here.

Although there have been no reports of an uprising following the assassination of President Caceres it is assumed the murder was the result of a political plot and members of the Caceres party will attempt to seize the government.

CHINESE ATTACK THE FOREIGNERS

English and Scandinavian Missionaries Massacred by the Rebels at Hsien-Fu

OTHERS REPORTED KILLED

Powers May Get Into Tangible in Eagerness to Grab Land; War Dogs Growl

Bulletins From War
SHANGHAI, Nov. 20.—Eight thousand rebel recruits are mobilizing at Canton today preparatory to joining in the siege of Nankin. The rebel attack on the city, expected yesterday was delayed because the imperialist defenders' position proved stronger than expected and it was decided to await reinforcements and lay siege.

TIENTSIN, Nov. 20.—A desperate battle is in progress at Hankow today. The imperialists are reported losing heavily.

TOKIO, Nov. 20.—Unconfirmed reports here today say a company of American marines has been landed at Chi Fu, where there was a Japanese landing Saturday.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Confirmation of a rumored massacre of foreigners at Hsien-Fu, China, was received here today in messages from Tien Tsin to the Exchange Telegraph company.

The number of victims is not stated in the dispatches. It is only known that most if not all of the foreigners in Hsien Fu were English and Scandinavian Baptist missionaries.

The rebels seem to have been responsible for the slaughter since they recently captured the city from the imperialists.

Reports of a massacre of French missionaries in Lolos Territory, south of Sze Chuen province, still lack confirmation, but the gravest fears are entertained.

The actual outbreak of anti-foreign violence in China is causing the deepest anxiety in government circles here. Not only is it feared that the Hsien Fu outrage will be followed by murders of foreigners all over China, but since it is evident that outside intervention cannot be longer delayed, the danger of friction between the powers becomes imminent.

It is of Japan and Russia that England is most suspicious. The English believe the czar and mikado have long had a compact for partitioning China, in exclusion of other powers.

Anxiety was intensified by Saturday's landing of Japanese troops at Chi Fu, without what was considered here adequate reason at the time. News that Russia has been secretly mobilizing in eastern Siberia is considered another dangerous symptom.

HEART DISEASE CAUSES DEATH

Mrs. John Torrance, aged 49 years, 1513 West avenue south, died suddenly at her home Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, death being due to neuralgia of the heart.

Although she had been ill for some time there was nothing to indicate that the end was near.

Mrs. Torrance, who formerly was Miss Mina Willey, was born in West Salem on January 7, 1862.

She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Ellis Langdon, a step-daughter, Miss May Torrance, two brothers, Charles W. and Fay Willey, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Kouba and Mrs. A. Stoublin.

The funeral will be held from the residence, 1513 West avenue south, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

TO HOLD FUNERAL TUESDAY MORNING

The body of Mrs. Charles S. Schroeder, wife of the late Charles G. Schroeder, who died in West Salem on Friday, arrived in La Crosse yesterday at 5:30 p. m.

The remains were taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. Julius Kile, 911 Hood street, and the funeral services will be held at the German Reformed church at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Lemke will officiate.

Mrs. Schroeder was born in Germany and is survived by one daughter, Edna, three sisters, Hannah and Ida of La Crosse, and Tillie of Santa Barbara, Cal., and three brothers, Louis and Leo of Stoddard, and Emil of Chasaburg.

BOY HELD FOR MURDER

VINCENNES, Ind., Nov. 20.—Arrangements for an immediate convening of the grand jury were made here today, following the arrest late last night of S. Edward Stubbings, college graduate, in connection with the mysterious murder of his wealthy father, found dead in his barnyard with a bullet hole through his head.

PATTERSON TRIAL OPENS IN DENVER

Woman Says Husband Sold Her to a Wealthy Chicago Man for $1,500

SELF DEFENSE IS THE PLEA

Declares She Shot Man Who Threatened to Take Her Life After Divorce

DENVER, Col., Nov. 20.—When the criminal court opened today on what may be the concluding act in the drama of Gertrude Gibson Patterson's life, one of the most sensational murder trials in the history of the middle west began.

Following twenty-four hours of almost continuous conference with Mrs. Patterson and her parents, Judge O. H. Hilton, the woman's attorney, announced that he had arranged for the appearance of an array of witnesses from Chicago and elsewhere whose testimony would clear his client of the charge of murdering her tubercular husband, whom she shot down during a quarrel last September.

Despite Hilton's declaration that he relies on the testimony of outside persons, it is known that practically the entire case of the defense will rest on the story to be told in the witness stand by the defendant herself.

It will be the story of the woman of education, who, as she will allege, was sold to a rich Chicago man for a stipulated sum by her own husband. It will tell how she sacrificed everything most dear to her in order to help her husband in his fight against tuberculosis and then, how his cruelties drove her to a divorce and a later quarrel in which she was compelled to kill him to save her own life.

On September 25 last, Mrs. Patterson went to the Phillips home for consumptives, of which her husband, Charles Patterson, was an inmate, and met him, evidently by previous arrangement. They walked a considerable distance, talking earnestly, when suddenly they got into a quarrel during which Mrs. Patterson shot her husband dead. When arrested the woman unfolded a startling story.

She alleged that, previous to her marriage with Patterson, she lived with Emil Strouss, a rich Chicago clothier, for five years. She met Patterson at a skating rink, she said, and a few months after they were married.

Not long after, she alleged, her husband asked her if she had any money and when she said she had not he proposed that she lead an immoral life with other men. She called him a beast, she says, and a violent quarrel ensued. Later, she alleged, she met Strouss and told him of the incident and he suggested that she go to Europe with him on a trip he was soon to make.

The next day she met Strouss, she said, and told him Patterson demanded $1,500 from Strouss as the purchase price for the woman. Strouss gave her the money and they went abroad, she asserted.

After she and Strouss reached Europe, the woman asserts Patterson cabied her that he was out of money and that unless Strouss "came across" he would "show him up."

Strouss gave her $5,000 and sent her back to America, she said, and she lived with her husband.

Her story added that so cruel did her husband become that she was forced to leave him and later he tried to kill her because she would not return to him. She alleged she grasped the revolver which he brandished and shot him.

FLOOD IN SEATTLE

WATER SUPPLY AND LIGHTING POWER CUT OFF BY BREAKING OF BIG DAM

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 20.—Thousands of dollars damage is being done today by a flood which has inundated a number of suburbs of Seattle and by breaking of the dam of the Municipal Electric Lighting & Power plant has left this city without lighting facilities. The flood also swept away the bridge supporting the conduits supplying Seattle with water, thus cutting the city off from its water supply. Reservoirs just outside the city, holding 100,000,000 gallons will supply Seattle until the broken conduits are repaired.

The lighting plant was put out of commission when water from the mountain was carried away the dam at the plant and then rushed down the canyon in a thirteen foot wall. Considerable damage has been done to transcontinental railroads in eastern Washington by floods and landslides. No fatalities have been reported.

REVOLT NIPPED IN THE BUD

Rattle of U. S. Troopers' Spurs on Border Baffles Plotters in United States

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 20.—The rattle of spurs and the clatter of accoutrements as Troop I, Third United States cavalry, under the command of Captain G. B. Conley, dashed into San Antonio today enroute for Laredo, gave emphasis to the announcement that Uncle Sam would permit no plotting against a friendly power on his soil. The soldiers had strict orders to arrest any revolutionary or enemy of the Mexican government who made any hostile move while in the United States.

The cavalry arrived early today and entrained for Laredo this afternoon. It is understood that they will be followed by the rest of the Third cavalry and possibly the Fourth.

General Reyes Arrested. According to Maderist sympathizers the arrest of Bernardo Reyes yesterday on a charge of conspiracy nipped the plot in the bud and no further trouble from this quarter is expected. Secret service men of both governments are swarming over this city and the neighboring towns, seeking information concerning caches of arms and ammunition for the rebels and trying to discover the hiding places of other revolutionists.

General Reyes appeared before United States Commissioner Edwards today and gave bonds of $5,000 for his appearance at the next term of the federal court. He stoutly maintained his innocence. It is understood here that the government will take steps toward deporting him as an "undesirable citizen."

Rebels Attack Juarez.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 20.—There was rifle firing outside of Ciudad Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, before daylight this morning. It is reported the Revista rebels, well armed, had made their way into a house on the outskirts of Juarez and had opened fire. The city is defended by a large force of men who are loyal to President Madero.

ROAD IS BLAMED FOR MANY DEATHS

Interstate Commerce Commission Gets Report on Manchester Wreck, August 25

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Lehigh Valley railroad was held responsible for the wreck at Manchester, N. Y., August 25, when twenty-nine persons were killed and sixty-two injured, in a report submitted to the interstate commerce commission today by Hiram W. Belknap, chief inspector of safety appliances. He reported that "company was culpable of the fact that there were defective rails in the service of the character of the rail which caused the disaster as evidenced by letters of instructions to subordinates which are now in the hands of the commission."

The Lehigh Valley company was given the advantage, however, in one section of the report, which said: "In the head of this rail there were transverse fissures. It appears that defects of this character cannot be detected except by chance, and that they are of a more dangerous character than piping, since they are developed after the rail is laid."

GOOD ROADS REMEDY FOR HIGH PRICES

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 20.—"Good roads, as a remedy for the high cost of living," were advocated by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today before the first American good roads congress of the American Association for Highway Improvement. "The relation between the public road and the farm is so intimate that the condition of the road very largely determines the value of the farm," said Wilson.

JOHN MARTIN'S FUNERAL TODAY

The funeral of John Martin, the pioneer resident of La Crosse, who died recently, was held from the Holy Trinity church this morning.

A large number of friends and relatives came to the church to pay their last respects to the memory of Mr. Martin. Rev. Riesterer preached the sermon. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

SCHUBERT GETS THE SCOTT STORY

City Attorney in Conference with Accusers of Yolt-ton and McGrath Today

HOLD GRAND JURY PETITION

Petitioners Await Outcome of Probe in which Schubert Will Go After the Facts

A. H. Schubert, city attorney, who Friday consented to assist Mayor Dengler and the police board in the investigation of the Scott charges against Detectives Yolt-ton and McGrath, held a protracted conference with Scott this morning.

Frank Scott repeated his charges to Mr. Schubert, and the latter drew him out as to details and "side-lights" which furnished stage setting and atmosphere to the story.

On the Job. Mr. Schubert said to The Tribune this morning that it is his purpose, as assistant to the mayor and commission, to get the facts. He said that while he was not here to "make a case" against anybody, he proposes to get the facts, and if the facts "make a case" he will present that case with force and completeness.

In addition to the statements of Scott and others which he secured today, it is said, Mr. Schubert has himself dug up a number of facts and circumstances material to the case, the nature of which he does not feel at liberty to make public.

Drew Grand Jury Petition

A number of citizens who have been watching the proceedings with interest, last week drew a petition for a grand jury which they had planned to submit to Judge E. C. Higbee. Now that the commission has taken action, and in view of Mr. Schubert's having consented to take hold of the investigation, they have decided to withhold the petition pending the outcome of the commission's probe.

May File It With Court.

"If it shall prove impossible for the commission, with the limited power at the command of the city attorney, to make a showing indicating that the facts have been ascertained, and justice done to all concerned, the petition will be filed with the court," said a prominent man identified with the plan today. "We will watch the proceedings and our future action will depend upon our conclusions as to their sufficiency."

RABBIT HUNTER IS KILLED

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Nov. 20.—Frank Temple, a hunter, is dead today, victim of a peculiar accident. Temple laid his gun on a brush-pile into which he had chased a rabbit. Tearing away the tangled brush he threw a stick over his shoulder, which struck the gun and discharged it, killing him instantly.

BLOW KILLS ENGINEER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 20.—Oscar H. Collins, 49, engineer of the Olympian Limited train on the St. Paul railroad, was instantly killed here early today when he leaned from the cab and his head struck a switchman's shanty. He dropped back into the cab dead. The fireman stopped the train.

AFRONAUT STARTS VOYAGE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 20.—Reports are being awaited here today from Captain G. L. Bumbaugh, aeronaut, who set sail in his balloon, Duesseldorfer, yesterday afternoon, in an effort to win the Lahm cup for distance traveled. Walter Moffit, Indiana aviator, is acting as aide. The gas bag traveled northeast from here.

WEATHER

For La Crosse and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; no decided change in temperature.

For Wisconsin: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; slightly colder south portion tonight.

For Minnesota: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

For Iowa: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; colder extreme south-east portion tonight.

Weather Notes. The temperature is moderate throughout the northwest this morning and the weather fair and relatively cool and fair in the gulf and Atlantic states, with frost at Charleston, S. C. A moderate depression is central over lower Michigan and light snow has occurred from Minnesota and Iowa to the upper lakes. An area of high pressure extends from the plateau region through the gulf states to the south Atlantic coast while over the north Pacific slope the pressure is decreasing.

These conditions indicate generally fair weather in this section for tonight and Tuesday with no decided change in temperature.

River readings discontinued on account of ice around gauges.

SHOULD START
ROAD CAMPAIGN

That the city of La Crosse should start a campaign to raise funds for the purpose of putting the two mile stretch of road running through Onalaska in good condition, is the assertion of Chairman R. W. Davis of the county board, following the announcement that the county board had passed an illegal resolution when it had moved to accept the road as a state highway.

"All the trade that comes to La Crosse from the other side of Onalaska must pass over this road, and as it can not be adopted as a public highway, due to the fact that it is within the city limits of an incorporated village, it can not receive state and county aid," said Mr. Davis.

Thus all the burden falls on the village of Onalaska, while the city of La Crosse receives the benefit.

HYDE TRIAL MONDAY.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 20.—A ruling by Judge Porterfield that both defense and prosecution must complete their exercise of peremptory challenges by this afternoon, indicated that the trial proper of Dr. B. Clark Hyde, facing the charge of murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, would be begun on Monday. Forty-seven talesmen are now in the box.

JINGLE OF SLEIGH
BELLS ON FROSTY AIR

A sure sign that winter is at hand was evidenced last evening when the jingle of sleigh bells was heard on the streets, and ear muffs, overcoats, gloves and other winter paraphernalia were in great demand. The first sleighing party of the year was seen Saturday, and although the sleighing was not of the best, a good ride around the city was enjoyed. Another proof that winter is here is that the small boys about the city have donned their skates and are now gliding about the sidewalks on which pedestrians are experiencing great difficulty in maintaining their equilibrium.

POSTAL PROBE ADJOURNS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 20.—Having been in session here for ten days, the congressional postoffice committee on expenditures, which has been investigating the $3,000,000 damage claim brought against the postoffice department by E. G. Lewis, formally announced today that it would adjourn and would meet again in Washington D. C. within two months.

THREE WORKERS KILLED

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Explosion of condensed air tube in the lard house of Swift & Company's plant at the Stock Yards here this afternoon killed three men, injured two, one perhaps fatally, and caused big damage to the plant. The detonation threw all the workmen in nearby buildings into a panic.

DIES TELEPHONING ALARM

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Firemen who answered an alarm telephoned from the tailor shop of S. T. Rosenfeld & Company early today, found the man who had given notice of the fire suffocated, apparently while he was telephoning. He sat with the telephone receiver to his ear. The dead man was Otto Berthinger, a night watchman.

NEUMEISTER TELLS
OF $10,000 CONCERN

William Neumeister, of William Neumeister & Company, 420 Jay street, announced this morning that he and Hiram G. Hall of the Minnesota Manufacturing Company, of Minneapolis, were about to incorporate a new concern in La Crosse with a capital of $10,000. Sixty per cent of this amount has been paid in at this time. The new concern will continue to handle dustless sweeping compounds and floor oils as in the past, in addition to which liquid soap will be manufactured, as will also the new sanitary paper towels. A larger building will be used by the company to accommodate the increased business.

YOUTHFUL THEFT
NETS TWO YEARS

Theodore Loth, age 18 years, was sentenced to two years at the state reformatory by Judge Higbee in circuit court Saturday, having been found guilty of theft. He is alleged to have been implicated in thefts of brass from the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad company for over a year.

Benjamin Riehl and Fred Zonker, aged 16 years, held on the same charge, were sentenced to one year each, but were later paroled.

Stops a Cough in Five Minutes by the Clock

Does This Harmless Home-Made Cough Syrup

MAKE A PINT CHEAP

Here is told how to make a home made pint of cough syrup cheaply, which has been known to stop a cough in five minutes by the clock. It relieves quickly and certainly brings about a cure, by its tonic laxative action and therefore is superior to ordinary preparations, which only relieve, and then aggravate by their constipating effects.

One dose is not laxative, but 8 to 10 doses daily create a mild laxative action and it is said that you can feel the medicine working on the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes, giving a grand feeling of freshness and strength to the entire system.

Any one can make a full pint very cheaply. Obtain of your druggist or have him order from the wholesale house, a 2½ ounce package of essence mentho-laxene. Empty it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with a home-made syrup composed of one pint of granulated sugar and a half pint of boiling water. When the syrup is cool add it to the mentho-laxene.

The dose is a teaspoonful 8 to 10 times daily or as required. Give children less according to age. It is perfectly harmless.

This is a pleasant tasting and quick acting remedy, liked by all who have tried it.

Records for Year Ending Nov. 15 Show that Waterway Is Being Used by Shippers

BRIDGE SWINGS LESS TIMES

But Two Packets Are Low and Pass Under Draw Here; Rafting Decreases

Despite fearful walls concerning the collapse of trade on the river from Winona, the official records of boats passing through the La Crosse draw bridge in the season which closed Thursday evening, November 16, show an increase in traffic of nearly 100 per cent over 1910.

The figures which have been kept at the office of the bridge engineer show that during the season from March 19, when the Eclipse, the first boat of the season, went up the river, to last Thursday, the bridge was swung open 971 times to allow boats to pass through. The figures for last year were 548.

At Winona the records show that there was a slight falling off in traffic, the bridge swinging 28 times less in 1911 than in the preceding year. At that, Winona has had more boats pass through the bridge than La Crosse. The figures for Winona are 1,272 in 1911, and 1,300 in 1910.

Local river men explain this apparent advantage possessed by Winona in the matter of traffic by the statement that the ideal, a packet in service between Winona and Wabasha, passed through the bridge twice daily, whereas the two packets running between Brownsville and La Crosse, the Jap and the Badger, are both built so low that it is not necessary to swing the bridge for them.

Season Closed Nov. 15

The season closed officially Thursday evening, when the government lights along this district of the river were lighted for the last time in 1911. Practically, however, the season closed last Saturday. Ice started running thickly in the river at that time, and no boats have used the channel since.

That the season of 1911 would have been much more successful for boats if the stage of water had been higher, is the belief of local authorities. They point out that while the water reached a high stage over two feet above last year's high mark, the rise did not come until owners of packets had become discouraged and withdrawn their boats from trade in the upper reaches of the river.

Higher Than in 1910

At no time did the river fall so low in 1911 as in the previous year. The low water mark in 1910 was reached December 1, when the river was a foot and one-tenth below zero. There were several occasions when the gauge hung for days around the zero mark, and occasionally it dropped below. The lowest mark for 1911 was reached September 4 to 6, inclusive, when the river stayed stationary at five-tenths of a foot above zero.

The high water this year followed the floods on the Wisconsin and Black rivers, a few days after the failure of the Hatfield dam. At that time the river reached 9.3. The high mark for 1910 was 7.6, which was registered March 28.

Rafting Falls

The decrease of business on the river in the last ten years is due to the disappearance of the lumber rafts. Fewer and fewer each year are seen floating down the stream, and the time will soon be when the river will know them no more. River men, however, are sanguine that the river will within a few years regain the greater portion of its prestige as a carrier despite the loss of the rafting.

They feel that the opening of the Panama canal will make the Mississippi the natural outlet of manufactured goods from the Mississippi valley for all over the world. They point out that with a ten foot channel from Minneapolis to New Orleans goods could be shipped by water from any part of the Mississippi valley with but one handling, transferring from river boat to ocean-going vessel at the mouth of the river.

MAKING GOOD

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards. A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy.

the floating ice. This is the government steamer Elsie, which left yesterday morning from harborage near the upper elevator in Black river and went as far up as Dresbach. She returned with a story-and-a-half quarterboat which has been used during the summer by government laborers. She experienced no mishaps, although at times she had difficulty in plowing through the large ice floes.

Dubuque Division Work Ended

All improvement work on the Dubuque division of the Mississippi from the Wisconsin river to LeClairs, 139 miles, which is under the supervision of the United States engineer's office at Dubuque, has been discontinued for the season, at least as far as open river work is concerned. The large government fleet, with the exception of the Elinor, building barge No. 208, and the suction dredge Geyser, the former two being at the Keokuk drydocks, and the latter at the Milan boat yards, are tied up in the Dubuque ice harbor. The three boats mentioned are to undergo extensive improvements preparatory for next season's work.

CLEAN CITY WELL

The water department has just completed pumping mud out of the well at the pump house, as considerable of this substance had collected there recently. Four feet of mud had to be removed during the time when this was being done.

GERMANY HAS NO

WALL ST. TERROR

"They might have had a panic in Berlin this fall," says the Saturday Evening Post. "There had been speculation and overtrading. Credit was under a severe strain. Some eighty million dollars of treasury notes were maturing. The war-clouded political horizon caused France to draw in her money, and the amount of Parisian funds lying at call in Berlin was estimated at two hundred million dollars. In some parts of the empire signs of uneasiness among bank de-positors appeared. The failure of the Bank of Egypt did not help matters.

"The gravity of the situation appears from the fact that in a single week the Imperial bank lost thirty-nine million dollars of its cash reserve. This is a rather larger loss of cash reserve than the New York associated banks suffered in October,

1907, when they resorted to clearinghouse loan certificates and restricted cash payments—leading to a wholesale dislocation of the country's banking system. There was no restriction of cash payments at Berlin, however. On the contrary, in six business days the Imperial bank increased its loans and discounts by one hundred and forty-five million dollars, and in order to do so increased its note issue by one hun-ded and fifty-four million dollars.

"Thus, notwithstanding the severe strain and the large loss of cash, October settlements were met without a hitch and Berlin paid back to Paris

a hundred and fifty million dollars of call loans. Ten days later the discount rate at Berlin had fallen to four per cent.

"All of which shows how a great central bank can deal with a crisis.

What would have happened here under like conditions? Perhaps another suspension of cash payments; another breakdown of the banking system; another six or eight months of business doldrums—because we haven't the apparatus to meet a crisis. We know we are rather more liable to fiscal conflagrations than any other great nation; but we rely upon nothing but a volunteer bucket brigade to put them out."

WE WON SO LETS

FOOT THE BILLS

According to the estimate of Attorney Frank Winter the difference between the increases asked for by the La Crosse Gas & Electric company, and what they actually got as a result of the state railroad commission's decision, is approximately $20,- 000 per year. In other words, had the company's petition been granted, its revenue during the next ten years would be $300,000 more than they will be as the ruling stands.

In other words, the action of the commission in sustaining almost exactly the contentions made by Mr.

Winter and his associates, Messrs.

Hartwell, Higbee, Schubert and Doherty, who appeared on behalf of the city and civic bodies, means that in ten years THE PEOPLE OF LA

CROSSE will save $300,000, enough to pay for its proposed new water system.

There was made by the city, we believe, some provision for meeting

the expense of the contest. It is said this provision was inadequate. Of course the money must be raised, and in view of the saving to the people,

The Famous

Ware's eyes met his for an instant. He had thought of flight, too; was still thinking of it, but greed was as much a part of his nature as fear; Belle Plain was a prize not to be lightly cast aside, and it was almost his. He lurched across the room to the window. If he were going to act, the sooner he did so the better, and gain a respite from his fears. The road to the coast slid away before his heavy eyes; he marked each turn; then a palsy of fear shook him, his heart beat against his ribs, and he stood gnawing his lips while he gazed up at the sun.

"Do you get what I say, Tom? I am going to quit these parts," said Hicks. Ware turned slowly from the window.

"All right, Hicks. You mean you want me to settle with you, is that it?" he asked.

"Yes, I'm going to leave while I can; maybe I can't later on," said Hicks stolidly. He added: "I am going to start down the coast as soon as it turns dark, and before it's dark again I'll have put the good miles between me and these parts."

"You're going down the coast?" and Ware was again conscious of the quickened beating. Hicks nodded. "See you don't meet up with John Murrell," said Ware.

"I'll take that chance. It seems a heap better to me than staying here," Ware looked from the window. The shadows were lengthening across the lawn.

"Better start now, Hicks," he advised.

"I'll wait until it turns dark."

"You'll need a horse."

"I was going to help myself to one. This ain't no time to stand on ceremony," said Hicks shortly.

"Slowness shouldn't be left in the lurch like this—or your brother's folks—"

"They'll have to figure it out for themselves, same as me," rejoined Hicks.

"You can stop there as you go by."

"Don't you want the fire lighted?" asked Hicks. He was familiar with his employer's vacillating moods.

"Yes," answered Ware, his lips quivering; and slowly, with shaking fingers, he added to the pile of bills in Hicks's hand.

"Well, take care of yourself," said Hicks, when the count was complete. He thrust the roll of bills into his pocket and moved to the door.

Alone again, the planter collapsed into his chair, breathing heavily, but his terrors swept over him and left him with a savage sense of triumph.

His pulses sprang up, intending to recall Hicks and unmake his bargain. What had he been thinking of—safety lay only in flight. Before he reached the door his greed was in the ascendant. He dropped down on the edge of his bed, his eyes fixed on the window. The sun sank lower. From where he sat he saw it through the upper half of the sash, blood-red and livid in a mist of fleecy clouds.

It was in the tops of the old oaks now, which sent their shadows into his room. Again maddened by his terrors, he started and backed toward the door; but again his greed, the one dominating influence in his life, vanquished him.

He watched the sun sink. He watched the red splendor fade over the river; he saw the first stars appear. He told himself that Hicks would soon be gone—if the fire was not lighted he must act at once! He stole to the window. It was dusk now, yet he could distinguish the distant wooded boundaries of the great fields framed by the darkening sky.

Then in the silence he heard the thud of hoofs.

CHAPTER XXXII.

The Judge Names His Second.

"Price—" began Mahaffy. They were back in Raleigh in the room the judge called his office, and this was Mahaffy's first opportunity to ease his mind on the subject of the duel, as they had only just parted had stopped at one of the stores to make certain purchases for the raft.

"Not a word, Solomon—it had to come. I am going to kill him. I shall feel better then."

"What if he kills you?" demanded Mahaffy, harshly. The judge shrugged his shoulders.

"That is as it may be."

"Have you forgotten your grandson?" Mahaffy's voice was still harsh and rasping.

"I regard my meeting with Fentress as nothing less than a sacred duty to him."

"We know no more than we did this morning," said Mahaffy. "You are mixing up all sorts of side issues with what should be your real purpose."

"Not at all, Solomon—not at all! I look upon my grandson's speedy recovery as an assured fact. Fentress dare not hold him. He knows he is run to earth at last."

"Price—"

"No, Solomon—no, my friend, we will not speak of it again. You will go back to Belle Plain with Yancy and Cavendish; you must represent me there. We have as good as found Hannibal, but we must be active in Miss Mahaffy's behalf. For us that has an important bearing on the future, and since I can not, you must be at Belle Plain when Carrington arrives with his pack of dogs. Give him the advantage of your sound and mature judgment, Solomon; don't let any false modesty keep you in the background."

"Who's going to second you?" snapped Mahaffy.

The judge was a picture of indifference.

"It will be quite informal, the code is scarcely applicable; I merely intend to remove him because he is not fit to live."

"At sun-up!" muttered Mahaffy.

"I intend to start one day right even if I never live to begin another," said the judge, a sudden fierce light flashing from his eyes. "I feel that this is the turning point in my career, Solomon!" he went on. "The beginning of great things! But I shall take no chances with the future; I shall prepare for every possible contingency. I am going to make you and Yancy my grandson's guardians. There's a hundred thousand acres of land hereabout that must come to him. I shall outline in writing the legal steps to be taken to substantiate his claims. Also he will inherit largely from me at my death."

Something very like laughter escaped from Mahaffy's lips.

"There you go, Solomon, with your inopportune mirth! What in God's name have I if I haven't hope? Take that from me and what would I be? Why, the very fate I have been fighting off with tooth and nail would overwhelm me. I'd sink into unimportance—my unparalleled misfortunes would degrade me to a level with the commonest! No, sir, I've never been without hope, and though I've fallen I've always got up. What Fentress has based on money he stole from me. By God, the days of his profit-taking are at an end! I am going to strip him. And even if I don't live to enjoy what's mine, my grandson shall! He shall wear velvet and a lace collar and ride his pony yet, by God, as a gentleman's grandson should!"

A Song for the Scrubs

Now cheer, if you will, for the players who thrill
With an eighty-yard run for a score;
For the stars of the game who are thumping out fame
Ploughing knee-deep through oceans of gore.
But the real heroes of the game are those
Who get thumped on the "scrub" without praise.
The unknown guy who takes his slams in the eye
That the stars may perfect their pet plays.
For his heart is true as the skies are blue
Who gets thumped for another's glory.

Yes, here's to the dub who plays on the "scrub";
We never hear much of his capers,
But he plugs just the same for the good of the game
While the stars hog the space in the papers.
He takes his bumps with the mutts and chumps
Of whom no one ever hears,
And he eats up punches in clusters and bunches
For the stars who are getting the cheers.
Then let you and I give a cheer for this guy
Whom we never read of in the story.
For his heart is true as the skies are blue
Who gets thumped for another's glory.

ONALASKA CAR FINDS PARENTS

Behind Time Friday It Is Means of F. M. Yeo Locating Folks Missing for Many Years

MRS. BALMER GIVES A CLUE

Idly Discusses Family of Same Name Living in Kansas and Reunion Will Result

Owing to the fact that the Onalaska car was late Friday F. M. Yeo, proprietor of the Onalaska Exchange, 1931 Loomis street, owes the joy of locating his mother and father whom he lost all trace of fifteen years ago. Here's how it happened.

Left to Seek Fortune
Twenty years ago Yeo, who then resided with his parents in Kalamazoo, Mich., became imbued with the wanderlust and left his home to seek fortune in the world. For the first five years he kept faithful correspondence with his folks but later, through a series of moves made necessary by his employment on railroads, lost trace of them. He says that in the last twenty years he has moved at least twenty times. Letters he mailed to his mother and father were returned unanswered and diligent search of the records in Kalamazoo failed to reveal where they went.

Gets First Clue
Here's where the street car solved the mystery. Mrs. Frank E. Balmer, Onalaska, wife of the head of the La Crosse County School of Agriculture and Domestic Science, stepped into the exchange to wait the arrival of the proverbially late Onalaska car.

"Have you any relatives in Kansas?" she asked Yeo.

He answered that he hadn't but later explained that the last he had heard of his parents was when they were in Kalamazoo, fifteen years ago.

Mrs. Balmer, who but recently came from the Sunflower state, described the family of Yeo she had known there and before she had finished the La Crosse man was positive that they were his missing parents.

Mrs. Balmer supplied him with the address of his folks, which is 240 West Fifth street, Junction City, Kansas, and he has written.

"There is apt to be a big reunion when I hear from the folks," joyously predicts Yeo, "and it's all because the old Onalaska car was late."

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascarets now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascarets tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10 cent box from any drug store means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

HUNDREDS ATTEND FUNERAL OF GIRL

Scores of Friends Follow the Body of Elva Peterson to Resting Place in Onalaska

TWO WOMEN PROSTRATED

Mrs. Albert Olson and Mrs. Gerhard Overcome with Grief; Rev. Leach Preaches

All of Onalaska turned out Sunday afternoon to pay a last tribute to the memory of Miss Elva Peterson, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peterson, who died recently after a lingering illness due to diabetes.

The First Norwegian Lutheran church where the final services were held, was crowded to overflowing with friends of the deceased and a large majority of the mourners followed the cortege to the Onalaska cemetery where interment was made.

Two Prostrated
During the services Mrs. Albert Olson, Galesville, Mrs. Gerhard, N. La Crosse, were prostrated and the services of a physician were required. Mrs. Olson was in a serious condition for several hours.

The Rev. Leach, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church of La Crosse, officiated at the services and delivered a beautiful tribute to the dead girl. In eloquent language he told of the remarkable fortitude with which the girl awaited death. She had been informed that she had no hopes for recovery.

Six young men, all personal friends and some schoolmates of the deceased, acted as pallbearers. They were the Messrs. Clarence Holter, Elmer Freng, Oscar Simonton, Earl Dunlap and Leonard Fredericksen. The arrangements were in charge of A. E. Smith.

Profusion of Flowers

There was a profusion of flowers, some of the designs being most beautiful. The following little girls acted as flower girls: Luella Westeraas, Lovie Westeraas, Marie Ellis, Esther Ellis, Alma Milbricht, Amanda Kitterson, Myrtle Nelson, Jessie Steenburg, Ella Sween, Bernice Skogan, Blanche Hougan and Edna Onsgard.

JUDY TO MEET ILLINOIS CHAMP

John Moore, manager of the two north side grapplers, Young Sampson and Judy Jurgenson, today signed articles for a match between the latter and Doc Domer, Dixon, Ill. The match will be held in Union Hall on the north side, November 24. Domer claims to be champion middleweight of Illinois, and the match promises to be interesting.

Thursday evening of this week Jurgenson and Carroll will attempt to settle the question of superiority which was left undecided the night of the Sampson-Muldoon match. They will meet in Bangor. A number of North siders are making up a party to accompany Jurgenson.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH TO GIVE A BAZAAR

The ladies of the St. John's church on the north side will hold their annual bazaar all of next week. The opening of the bazaar will take place Monday afternoon, November 27. Supper will be served by the ladies every evening from 5 till 7, and coffee in the afternoons from 2 to 5.

The bazaar will be held in the school house adjoining the church, and supper will be served in the church basement. The proceeds of the bazaar will be turned into the church treasury.

EGAN FUNERAL

The funeral of Edward Egan was held at the residence of his mother, Mrs. A. Egan, 1606 Wood street, Saturday morning, from St. James church, Rev. Ambrose Murphy officiating. His sisters, who attended the funeral were Mrs. C. J. Quinn of Minneapolis, Mrs. W. O. Cadwell, Minneapolis, Mrs. J. J. Connerton, Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. T. J. Groves, Prescott, Wis., Mrs. W. A. Shomber, Spokane, Wash., Miss Alice Egan, La Crosse, Mrs. G. A. Arrowood, Lewiston, Idaho, Mrs. E. Haney, Kootenae, Id., was unable to be present on account of sickness.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

The funeral of Mrs. C. F. Findeisen, 1728 Loomis street, will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the residence. Rev. Witter, pastor of the German M. T. church, will officiate at the services. Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery.

STAGG CONFIDENT

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—"If the Maroons go into the Wisconsin game with the same spirit with which they faced Cornell they'll win," was Coach Stagg's verdict today. Chicago's week of preparation for the Badger game will be devoted largely to scrimmage practice.

Gold Dust Brightens the Home

Nothing is so attractive as a cleanly home; nothing contributes so much to cleanliness as Gold Dust. No matter what it touches—china, pots and pans, floors, woodwork, clothes, etc.—it cleans thoroughly, leaves everything spotlessly clean, bright and attractive.

Don't use up all your time and strength trying to keep things clean; use Gold Dust everywhere you can—in all your household cleaning—and let it do the work. It works so quickly and thoroughly that really it makes cleaning a pleasure instead of a task. It makes home "sweet" home.

forgot to tell you of the poor old beggar that we found in the jungle near Hoshiarpur with his leg broken and half dead with exposure. He is the man that gave me the strange seed. He gave it to me as a mark of his gratitude for saving his life. He claimed some magic power which rested in the plant and said that if I planted it, great good fortune would befall me and my friends. I can't give you all the rot that he explained to me and no doubt you would laugh if you heard it. But I have spent enough years in mysterious India to have lost a little of my scepticism in regard to the so-called magic of that country.

We were running a line through the heavy jungle out of the sacred city of Amritsar and a beastly job it was too. One morning when we were nearing Hoshiarpur, a party of my Sudras boys were cutting a path through the brush for the surveyors, we run across the sorriest specimen of mankind that I have ever seen. He was lying in a sort of hut of grass and cane that he built out of stuff within reach of his hands and he was nearly dead of starvation and fever. He had broken his leg in some way, I never found out how—it doesn't always pay to be too inquisitive, (especially in India) and had been there a couple of weeks, I should judge.

Well to make a long story short, we carried him into Hoshiarpur with us that night and saw to it that he was taken care of in a native hospital.

Promises to Plant

Just about the time that I was ready to come back home for my vacation he turned up again after I had forgotten all about him. He had entirely recovered and I hardly believed that he was the same man. He proved to be some sort of a priest of the Sikhs. He hung around our camp all the time and made himself a nuisance with his protestations of gratitude. The climax came the day before I left for "God's Country" when he with great air of mystery gave me three little seeds wrapped up in silk, one of which I have sent to you. As far as I could make out the plan had been raised in his family for untold generations and is supposed to be of some magic power, through his religion, Sikhism. He made me promise faithfully that when I got to my country, I would plant these seeds.

He stipulated some special time of the year (when the dog star was at the zenith or some such thing) when the seeds were to be put in the ground. That was fully a year ago and as near as I can remember just about now is the time for the planting. He told me that if I had a friend that I wished fortune to attend, to give him one of the seeds to plant and that is the reason you found one in your mail this morning. I have sent one to our old friend Fred and planted one myself. You can do as you like about the third but it won't hurt anything if you try to make it grow. I have had them over a year now and they are all dried up. It may be that they won't grow anyway.

To Go Back To India

I have had a lot of fun with what here. I told a couple of the fellows about them and the story got around. As a result about a dozen botanists have been here to examine the "mysterious Seed." So far they have been unable to classify it and they are waiting for it to sprout with great anxiety.

I am going to take a run down to Detroit in a day or so to talk over things with the company then I suppose it is me for the "far east" again. I expect to leave shortly to see Christmas and am hoping to see you before I go. Give my best regards to the folks and let me hear how you are getting along. I hope you are in the best of health and am waiting for your next letter.

Your Old Pal,
JAMES PALMER.

P. S.—Let me know if your seed shows any signs of life and how "brings fortune" to you. J. P.

Try This, Instead of Quinine, for Colds

Pinex Cold Tablets give almost instant relief in colds or la grippe and usually wipe out the trouble completely inside of 20 hours. No other remedy will stop the aches and pains so quickly. Cost no more than quinine capsules, and are immensely superior.

Pinex Cold Tablets reduce the fever, check the nasal discharge, restore normal activity in the pores, and are very pleasantly laxative and tonic. Do not contain a particle of opiates or coal tar heart depressants. Simple, harmless and very agreeable.

Don't accept a substitute—one trial of this quick-acting remedy will show you that there is nothing else "just as good" as Pinex Cold Tablets. Money refunded if disappointed. 25c per box. If necessary, send to The Pinex Co., Fort Wayne, Ind., (makers of "Pinex Cough Remedy").

TELLS YOU HOW TO CURE A COLD

Surely breaks the most severe cold and ends Grippe misery in just a few hours

The most effective and harmless way to cure the Grippe or break a severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, is a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel the cold breaking and all grippe symptoms going after the very first dose. It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic aching.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

After three years' research we have conclusively demonstrated that quinine is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

SUBMARINE BOAT PICTURES AT LYRIC

Perhaps the best production of its kind ever offered to the lovers of the motion picture is shown for the first time in La Crosse today.

The "Imp" company has gone to great expense to make this great two reel production and all of the critics who have witnessed the private exhibition of the subject pronounce it the very best production of its kind that has been offered to the public.

There is a clever story which runs through the picture, of an ensign on the submarine "Octopus," who has won the favor of the pretty daughter of one of the officers. The ensign offers to show an officer of a foreign country the workings of the submarine and while going over the boat, the jealous foreigner steals the controlling valve which raises the submarine from the bottom of the ocean. The boat receives orders to go to sea and starts away, is submerged and the loss of the valve is not discovered until the ensign receives orders to bring the boat to the surface. He can not raise the submarine, and knowing that to remain below means suffocation to the crew in a short time, he offers himself to be placed in one of the tubes which discharge the torpedoes, and is shot through the water to the surface, then he swims to a vessel near by and divers go down and rescue the crew. This picture was made with the assistance of one of our modern submarines and is endorsed by our United States government.

The Lyric theatre will show this wonderfully exciting two reel picture for one day only, tonight.

CARL VAN AUKEN ENTERTAINS
Mrs. C. S. Van Auker was hostess Saturday at a charming party given in honor of the ninth birthday of her son Charles S. Van Auker, Jr. Over fifty invitations were sent out. The young guests arrived promptly on time, each bearing some little gift for the host. A magic lantern and games afforded great amusement during the afternoon. At five o'clock the dining room doors were thrown open disclosing a handsomely decorated table. In the center was a tall vase of red carnations and ferns. A canopy of red ribbons was suspended from the chandelier over the table. Sixteen of the guests were seated here. In front of the host was a beautiful birthday cake with the requisite number of red tapers which was the admiration of all present.

Small tables in the living room and parlor accommodated the other guests. At each guest's plate was a pretty little box filled with bonbons.

The guests were Agnes Boyd, Helen Goddard, Dorothy Noble, Dorothy Hart, Anna Esch, Dorothy and Marie Kroner, Betty Hixon, Helen and Virginia Baker, Mary and Jane Baker, Mary and Jane Baldwin, Elizabeth Iden, Katherine Farrand, Emma Mand Batchelder, Betty Dow, Helen Wallace, Virginia Nelson, Margaret Bennett, Mary Finch, Alice Platz, Edith Jorris, Jessie Egbert, Frances McConnell, Mary Farnam, Katherine Wesson, Dorothy Westby, Elizabeth and Marian Packman, Benny Edwards, Dickey and Potter Brayton, Joe and George Hixon, Frederick Hunkerson, Jack and Newell Holley, Robert and Billy Hurlen, Walter Smith, John Esch, John H. PRAIRIE DU CHIEN.
Mayor McCloskey has received assurances from the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association that Prairie du Chien will be made a regular port of entry for all river steamers the coming season. For several years steamers have stopped only at McGregor, as the main channel of the river is near the west bank at this place. The channel along the east bank will be deepened and made navigable for the largest boats, and Prairie du Chien will be one of the regular stops for boats plying between St. Louis and St. Paul.

It is reported that Prairie du Chien is to have a postal savings bank in the near future.

A passenger elevator is being installed in the double store building occupied by the T. and M. Murphy dry goods and Zeman and McCloskey clothing stores, for the convenience of both firms and their customers.

A new system of plumbing has recently been installed by William Boeckh of this city in the buildings on the Crawford county poor farm near Seneca.

The country roads are reported almost impassable owing to their being very rough and frozen hard. Teams coming from Eastman, fifteen miles northeast of this city on the Black river road, required nearly two whole days for the trip.

A young lad named McKillips fell from a wagon Wednesday on which he was "catching a ride" and broke one of his legs.

The Corneliuss block is being painted and redecorated with designs in stenciling in the hallways and jewelry store.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid society is preparing for the annual supper and bazaar to be held this year on December 6, at the council chambers.

Mrs. J. W. Brunton and little daughter Dorothy are here from Beal for a few days' visit at the Brower home.

Miss Alice Green left Friday afternoon for Madison, where she will visit her sister, Miss Ruth, at Chadbourn hall, over Sunday.

E. L. Haggerty, formerly county clerk, is in the city during the session of the county board of supervisors, assisting County Clerk Frank Garder.

J. S. Earle had business in La Crosse Wednesday.

Boy Fought an Eagle.

Elmer Peterson, fifteen years old, and living four miles west of Little Falls, Minn., had a hard battle with a large eagle and was saved from serious injury only by the timely arrival of a brother.

The boy had shot the bird, which was in a tree. The eagle fell to the ground and immediately went at the boy with its talons. The bird's claws became fastened in the boy's clothing and the lad was unable to free himself. Elmer was badly frightened and his strength was giving out when his brother arrived and killed the eagle with a club.

The bird measured five feet across the wings.

Well Occupied.

Lady (engaging assistant gardener)—And if I engage you, besides your other duties, you will have to attend to the three dogs and clean out their kennels, also clean out the parrot's cage, clean up my sons' workshop and clean both their bicycles; also clean the car except when the weather's dirty. Applicant (overwhelmed)—And shall I have to clean that?—Tatter.

PACKERS MAY TRY ANOTHER SCHEME

Likely to Demand Separate Trials, which Would Drag Case Out Another Year

Supreme Court Adjourns. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Counsel for the beef packers indicted in the United States court at Chicago for violation of the anti-trust law failed to appear before the United States supreme court today in their attempt to avoid standing trial. As the court adjourned this afternoon for two weeks, the packers will have no opportunity to obtain relief at this juncture of the case, as they were granted delay only until Wednesday.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—A continuance until Wednesday of the trial of the indicted beef packers under charges of conspiracy to interfere with commerce, was the only step here today of the government's eight-year campaign to bring the packing house barons to the bar of justice.

There was no argument in connection with Judge Carpenter's postponement of the trial, the judge himself ordering the continuance without a motion by the government's counsel. Pending the start of the trial the court ordered that the defendants be held in the same bail—$30,000 apiece.

Another "time consumer" expedient loomed up today as likely to be seized upon by counsel for the nine millionaire defendants. So far as the government attorneys can figure today defense has exhausted all possibilities here in Chicago for legal processes which might stave off a trial, and are now relying on a superior court to intervene. If the supreme court, for instance, does not grant them a stay of some kind, the government is expecting the resourceful of the legal array of the defense to demand separate trials for each of the ten defendants, which would drag the trial out over at least a year or more.

IN JUSTICE'S COURT.

La Crosse County, City of La Crosse, ss.

To Frank Gruenzner:—You are hereby notified that a summons and garnishee has been issued against you and your property garnished to satisfy the demand of Wm. Hanson, amounting to sixteen and 50-100 dollars ($16.50). Now unless you shall appear before C. W. Hunt, a justice of the peace in and for said county, at his office in said city of La Crosse, on the 12th day of Dec., A. D. 1911, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, judgment will be rendered against you, and your property sold to pay the debt.

Dated this 20th day of Nov., A. D. 1911.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

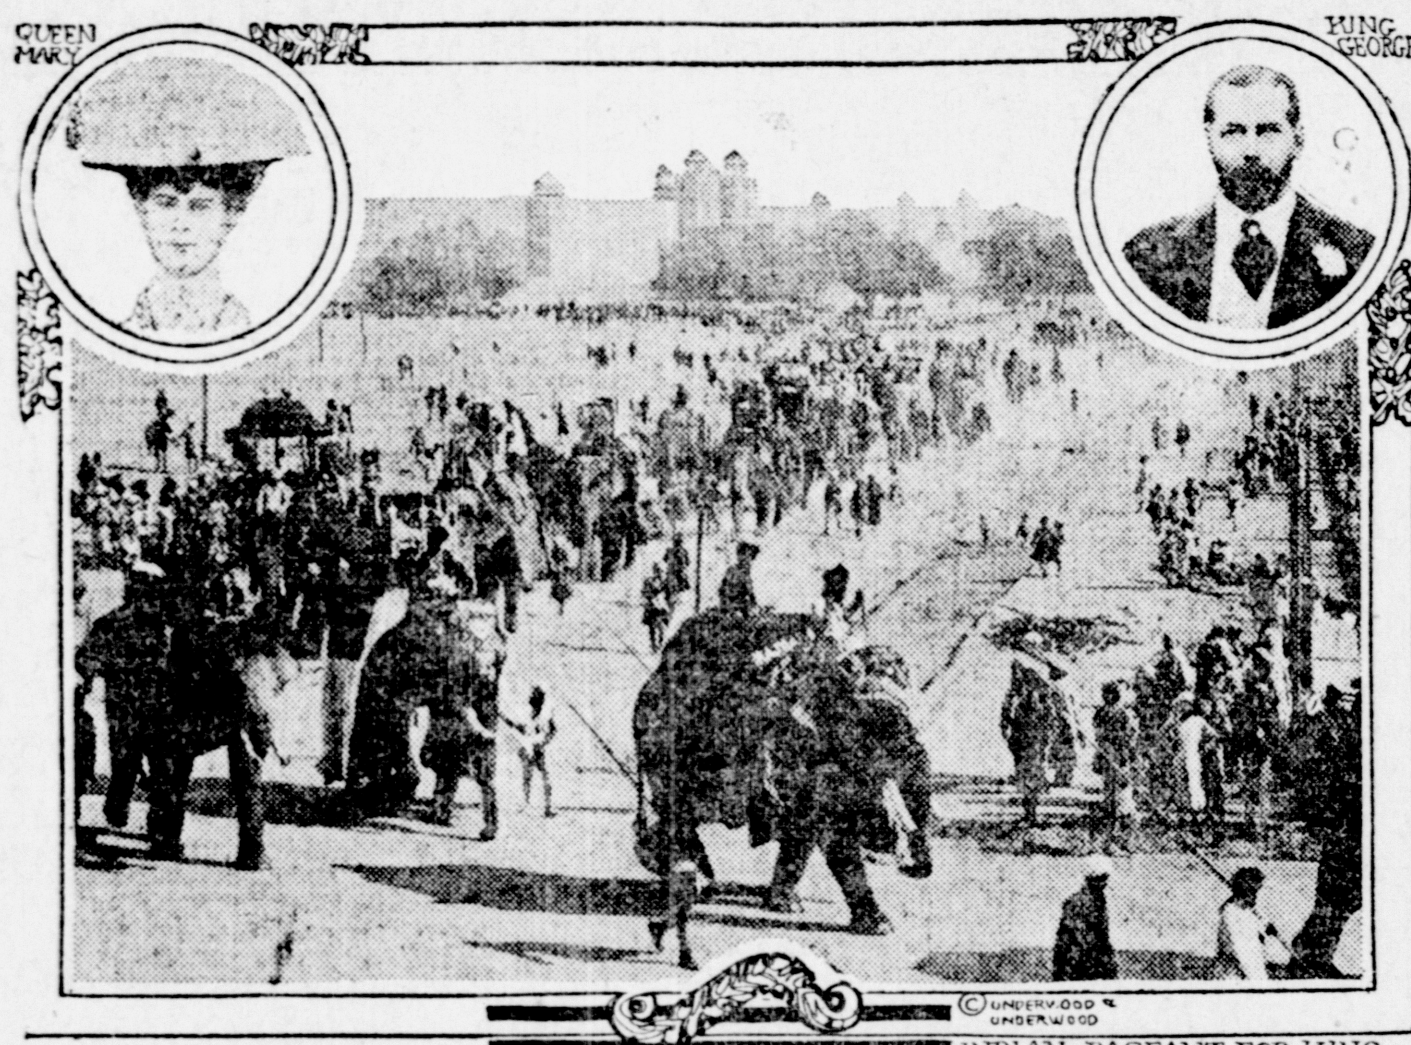

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, O. T. Erhart, 518 Main street.

INCOME TAX IN SUPREME COURT

Arguments Involving the Constitutionality of New Law Heard in Madison

MADISON, WIS., Nov. 20.—Arguments involving the constitutionality of the income tax law passed by the last legislature after a series of public hearings in which the opposition was represented by some of the best legal talent in the state, are being made today in the supreme court. The attorneys appearing against the law contended that it is unconstitutional for the reason that it does not insure uniformity in taxation. The question of original jurisdiction by the supreme court was discussed at length by both sides. The arguments probably will continue throughout tomorrow.

State Insurance Commissioner Ekern today ruled that county buildings insured in the state fund shall be insured for a term of one year, and that the three and five-year rule shall not apply to county buildings. The state board of control will meet in Green Bay tomorrow to consider applications for paroles.

Bees in Traveler's Pocket.

L. F. Crathorne of Kanopolis, Kan., is the first man in several moons to come through the depot carrying a whole hive of real live bees. In addition to the several hundred bees in a portable hive Mr. Crathorne carried an extra queen bee in his pocket, enclosed in a small contrivance of wire and wood that also contained a piece of candy and two ordinary working bees. The working bees were there to feed the candy to the queen. Queen bees won't feed themselves, Mr. Crathorne said. The only things they do are lay eggs, lead revolutions and get killed.

Mr. Crathorne said he had no difficulty handling bees without gloves or netting and that the small swarming under his right eye represented the only sting he received last night after sorting out three hives at twilight, the time when bees are most irritable. —Kansas City Star.

BOMB WRECKAGE MAY BE EVIDENCE

State Seeks Some Way to Introduce Explosives in McNamara Trial; May Be Barred

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 20.—Unless the state can produce the wreckage of the bomb which is alleged was used by James B. McNamara in destroying the Los Angeles Times, and show it was identical with that which the police allege was found by them at the home of Secretary Zeehadler of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association, the latter bomb will not be allowed in evidence against the defendants.

This is the belief of the defense attorneys in the McNamara trial today. In addition it is unlikely that any of the clocks, bombs, etc., found, according to Detective Burns' story, at Indianapolis, will be admitted by Judge Bordwell here.

Associated counsel who have been working on the case for District Attorney Fredricks are said to have told the prosecutor that there is no chance of getting Judge Bordwell to consent to letting any of this evidence in. They are still searching for a legal decision in the hope of finding some way to get around the precedent, but admit that it is extremely difficult. Just what effect this will have on the McNamara case is hard to say.

LISTMAN EMPLOYEE IS SERIOUSLY HURT

Pinned to the floor beneath six heavy sacks of flour by the sudden collapse of the pile upon which he was working, George J. Gehrig, 28, 1230 Jackson street, an employee of the Listman mill, suffered severe internal injuries to his spine and chest during the noon hour today. Dr. Wolf, who attended Gehrig, declared that he was unable to tell as yet whether Gehrig would recover. He said he was seriously injured.

Gehrig is employed in the storehouse of the Listman mill. He was working at the top of a pile of sacks when they slid from under him. He was taken to the St. Francis hospital. No bones are broken.

market on the swells, and that while there has been a bluff at selling wheat, the big leaders may be accumulating large holdings for May, ready to clean out the trade on any over-sold spot.

The market ruled generally firm. Under the influence of the advances in wheat, corn went up shortly after the opening, aided by general disposition to take the buying side. The weather forecast and report about offset each other. The market for oats was generally quiet. There was a short-lived rally by a group of locals who attempted to create a rally by heavy buying, but the offerings were heavy, and the effort was called off.

Provisions broke sharply shortly after the opening. An unexpectedly large run of hogs caused a selling scramble.

STRONG MAN ACT CLOSING GOOD BILL

Three Bartos Surprise Majestic Patrons with Wonderful Feats of Strength and Skill

THE BILL IS WELL-BALANCED

Mischievous Kids Make Hit as Clever Singers; Lyndon and Dorman Act Good; Other Acts in Keeping

The act which closes the well balanced bill at the Majestic the first part of this week is an acrobatic act, that of the Three Bartos. The trio fully lives up to its billing, as Modern Hercules, and exponents of physical culture. All three are men of nearly perfect physique, and the feats of strength which they perform are truly wonderful. Their work is clean cut and snappy, the most difficult feats being performed with apparent ease that is deceptive. Appreciative audiences at all performances yesterday accorded them prolonged applause for every stunt.

Brown and Brown, the two mischievous kids, also made a hit with the patrons of the theater. The boy of the team came in for the most comment, although the work of his sister was also well received. Both the boy and the girl have voices of good quality and great volume. They use them to advantage in the rendition of several songs. The act also is full of good comedy which never failed to "reach" the audience.

Conjuror Clever

The conjurer and the bellhop act, presented by Nelusco and Levina, is an act which combines the usual clever stunts of the magician with new burlesque features and clean comedy. The act illustrates the troubles of a magician with a new assistant, a bell boy impressed into service. The bellhop supplies the humorous element in the sketch by exposing and spoiling the work of the magician at inopportune moments.

Lyndon and Dorman, English comedians, are singers and jesters of more than ordinary merit. Their songs are for the most part new and are well delivered in pleasing voices. The lady member of the team makes a very pleasing picture in a bathing suit in one of the numbers. The picture is enhanced by the contrast presented in the angular frame of her partner, also in bathing costume.

The contortion act presented by Harry Harville introduces features which are new to local theater goers. His revolving disrobing stunt is original with himself. The act is prettily lighted and the setting of the stage for the performance is artistic.

Tribune March

The new "La Crosse Tribune March," composed by Walter Goetzinger, leader of the Majestic orchestra, was played for the first time yesterday. It is a vivacious piece which well illustrates the ability of its composer.

OPEN HOUSE FOR KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

On Tuesday night, the 21, the local Pythians will have an open house and entertainment for the members and friends. Andre's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and will render a fine program of dances and the evening will be spent in jolly good cheer.

The club rooms will be open for those wishing to play cards, pool or billiards, and the committee in charge will exert themselves to make the evening a round of pleasure from the start to the finish. The hall will be nicely decorated in the colors of the order to add to the attractiveness of the scene, and it is expected that a large crowd will take advantage of the first dancing party of the season that the order has given and enjoy the entertainment that will be given on this occasion.

FINAL SCORE 18 6 TO 6

Moll Goes Out of Bounds on Second Long Run and Touchdown Is Not Allowed

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 20.—Wisconsin scored a victory over the university of Minnesota team Saturday when she held the Maroon and Gold warriors to a tie, each team scoring six points. The result of the game proved a big surprise to Minnesota followers who had taken the trip down here to witness a Minnesota walk-away, but, while the rooters for the Maroon and Gold cause may have been surprised, one cannot begin to describe the shocking surprise the tie-up proved to Dr. H. L. Williams, coach of the Gopher team.

Playing on a field that was almost entirely covered by a sheet of ice, both teams were handicapped, and particularly the Minnesotans who have won their games by the speedy work of their backfield men. On that sheet of ice open field running was next to impossible, and although Ralph Capron successfully ran the gauntlet through the entire Wisconsin team for Minnesota's only touchdown, little spectacular work was not a possible chance of making comparisons of the two teams on such a field, for very few attempts at springing intricate plays were made.

Capron's Wonderful Run
Minnesota's touchdown came so quickly after the kickoff that the rooters could scarcely believe their eyes. Moll opened the game by kicking off to Ralph Capron on the Gophers' 15 yard line and the most wonderful player the west has ever seen started off down the field behind a perfect wall of interference. After running behind his teammates for about thirty yards, the dashing young Minnesotan darted off to take up the trail on his own hook, and although no less than five Wisconsin players stood between him and the Badger goal, the speed boy successfully dodged and wiggled his way through, making a final twenty yard dash for the touchdown. The play was one of the most sensational of years in football, but the game itself proved one of a very few spectacular runs.

Wisconsin's touchdown came in the last quarter. The Gophers were playing in their own territory when the play came up, which was a run after a punt. Capron had been called upon to kick, and after getting the ball away the entire Minnesota team, Capron excepted, stood stock still as though in answer to an official's command. Moll, who caught Capron's kick, did not hesitate a second, but

WEIMAR SCORES TOUCHDOWN

Delayed Pass Brings Victory to Local High;
No Injuries Are Sustained

Touchdown—Weimar
Goal—Jungbluth.

The high school football team defeated the Madison aggregation at the League park Saturday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0.

The game was fast considering the condition of the field which would have done better as a field for hockey than a gridiron for football.

dashed down the field toward Minnesota's goal line.

Capron made an unsuccessful attempt to tackle the runner, but the Wisconsin quarterback romped over for the touchdown. And while all this was taking place the Minnesota players were standing still.

From Minnesota's viewpoint the score was a fluke. It was not Moll's fault that all but two of the Gophers stopped in their tracks after hearing Umpire Fleeger's warning toot, and there was no question about Fleeger tooting his horn on the Gophers' 50 yard line.

Umpire Fleeger claimed he was going to penalize Minnesota and that Wisconsin could either take the gain or have Minnesota penalized.

While the game ended in a 6 to 6 tie, Minnesota wound up the day in rare luck that they were not beaten. With only a few minutes of time in which to play, and with the score a tie-up, Renben Johnson called for a split formation and forward pass. The play was executed so far as the formation and pass were concerned, but Keckie Moll, the brilliant Wisconsin quarterback, intercepted the pass and circled the Minnesota left wing for a long run. It was only the heady work of Leonard Frank, Minnesota's wonderful right tackle, that saved the day for the Gophers, for, after rushing Moll to the sidelines and realizing that he could not tackle the runner, the St. Paul athlete made a diving lunge, and succeeded in forcing the runner over the sideline, when one more step farther would have meant a touchdown and a most glorious victory. However, Frank's lunge did the business, and with less than one minute of play and the ball within two feet of the Maroon and Gold goal, the Gophers held on a down, and then heard the welcome blast of the referee's whistle closing the game.

THE BERGH PIANO CO.

CORNER FOURTH AND JAY STREETS, LA CROSSE, WIS.

The field which was covered with frozen sleet an inch deep, would have been unmarked had it not been for the ingenuity of Prof. Gouldin of the high school. The enthusiastic professor mixed a concoction of red fluid, which he dubbed potassium permanganate, and spent all Saturday morning in marking off the gridiron with the fluid.

Because of the ice on the field, many injuries were expected, but the men played in remarkable luck none of them receiving any bruises more than scratches.

The Madison team outplayed the locals during the first part of the first quarter and for a time things looked dubious for La Crosse, but in the later part of the quarter the highs struck their usual gait and left no doubt as to the outcome of the game.

Kesenick, at quarter, played the star game for Madison. The little fellow was fast on his feet and was gritty in tackling his men. Weimar, Dickens, Hundredmark and Strum played the strong parts for the home team. These four men broke up many plays before they were started and spilled their men with terrific force.

This game puts Madison out of the running for the state championship and gives La Crosse a decided boost. The locals have cleaned up everything so far with the exception of Chippewa Falls to whom they last out by the state board's decision at Milwaukee.

The crowd at the game was the largest of the year, it was estimated that about eight hundred witnessed the game.

Madison chose to defend the west goal. Jungbluth kicked off to Madison who received the ball on the 12 yard line failing to gain, punted on their third down. La Crosse held and the oval was given to Madison in the center of the field. Davey made 15 through center and again ripped off 20 through the same place and was downed by Strum on the LaCrosse 20 yard line. Madison failed to make their downs and La Crosse punted to the center of the field where the ball was recovered by Dickens. Stavrum made 15 on an end run and the pigskin was steadily advanced to the Madison 20 yard line. Weimar ran 20 for a touchdown on a delayed pass. Jungbluth kicked goal. Score La Crosse, 6; Madison, 0.

La Crosse kicked off to Madison's 10 yard line and the ball was returned 10 yards. Madison made their downs, then attempted a forward pass but was penalized because the ball was not passed 5 yards back of the line of scrimmage. Madison failed to make their downs and the ball was given to La Crosse. La Crosse also failed to make their downs and the ball was given to the visitors who punted to Strum on the 20 yard line. Time for first quarter was called.

The game was resumed with Stavrum punting the ball to Madison in the center of the field. Madison failed to gain and booted to McKahan. Weimar made 5 on two formation plays. Strum punted to Madison. La Crosse regained the ball on Madison's failure to make their downs. The next few moments were taken up in a punting fest in which the locals got the best of the deal. Madison tried to relieve the monotony of the fest by running over the goal line for a touchdown on an incompleted forward pass, but the touchdown was not allowed because such touchdowns are contrary to the rules of this year. Madison attempted a drop kick but the ball fell short by 15 yards. Stavrum punted to Madison who received the ball on the 20 yard line and advanced it to the center of the field where they again attempted to drop kick which was blocked and recovered by Hundredmark. The ball was given to Madison because La Crosse held. Time for the first half was called.

La Crosse kicked off to Madison's 15 yard line and the oval was returned 10 yards. They gained nothing on two line plunges and were forced to punt. The ball was caught by Strum and returned to the center of the field. Renner and Stavrum made 7 and Strum booted the ball to Madison's 04 yard line. Madison failed to complete a forward pass and were forced to punt. A shift play and a delayed pass advanced the ball 5 for the locals. Stavrum punted to Madison's 43 yard line. Dickens smashed in and tackled Nelson for a 5 yard loss. The remainder of the quarter was used in punting by both sides. When time for the third quarter was called, the oval was in Madison's possession on their 20 yard line.

Madison failed to score in the last quarter.

CHICAGO TEAM
BEATS CORNELL

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Western football enthusiasts are jubilant today over what they claim is a victory of the west over the east—based on their claim on the results of the Chicago-Cornell and Michigan-Pennsylvania games Saturday.

The Chicago-Cornell game is the most talked of. Entire credit goes to Coach Stagg. His reorganization of the eleven, following its disastrous defeat by Minnesota, is considered one of the greatest achievements in western football history.

Predictions are already being made that the Maroons will further complete next year's situation by defeating the Badgers next Saturday.

Michigan upset the dope by defeating Pennsylvania, following its poor showing and defeat by Cornell. The Wolverine victory, authorities assert, is directly traceable to the dogged persistence displayed by the team in offense and their snappy tackling on the defensive.

There is no dispute over Nebraska's claim to the Missouri Valley championship, their 29 to 0 victory over Kansas clinching the title.
